MICHAEL HOLROYD · COOPER S

We are coming to the part of the year when the weather could make a significant impact on the fate of the Harewood Hillclimb Championship for prolific class winner Michael Holroyd missed the first round and so must count all his scores throughout the year. Michael has done the business and been unbeaten in the class all year, so far. Carl Austin has shown flashes of good form but has not yet become consistent or quick enough to challenge Michael.

Championship ladies leader, Paula Cousin repaid the kindness of Paul Greaves when he loaned her his car, by setting her fastest time ever and breaking through into the 69s at the last Harewood.

Close finishes are the rule rather than the exception in this class and at the last meeting Ken Bailey's victory was secured by the meagre margin of 0.2 second while the battle for second place was won by Colin Wright who defeated Neville Alderson by just 100th of a second – you can't get closer than that! At the moment the Formula Fords have a virtual stranglehold on the Harewood Championship and if the weather is unkind today, this will help maintain that position, so maybe the prayer mats will be out for wet weather in this class.

CHRIS SEAMAN · MG MIDGET

Dave Farrar's radical looking MG Midget continues to dominate this class but so far Dave has been unable to remove the record set by Chris Seaman in 1992. Alastair Crawford's MGB will probably offer Dave his sternest challenge.

MIKE FELLOWS · MORGAN 4/4

Mike Fellows in the small engined Morgan usually gives the more powerful V8s a run for their money but surely the sheer grunt of a V8 should take them to the class victory. This well supported class has its finishing positions worked out on an index of performance basis so it isn't necessarily the fastest up the hill that takes the class win.

DAVID CLEWLEY · MG TB

All the big guns are present today with any of probably six drivers capable of snatching the class. These old cars dating back to 1939 are remarkably quick and are driven by highly skilled drivers who extract the utmost out of their ancient machines. The usual battle ground for the T-Types are the race circuits of the country but they also compete, as today, in the odd hillclimb. Prediction time for a possible class winner, you could perhaps put your money on record holder Dave Clewley whose performances at Harewood are a joy to watch.

CARL TALBOT · LOTUS SEVEN S2

Peter Herbert was the man to beat in this class in '92 but Peter is presently without a win at Harewood this year, perhaps today, Peter could set the record straight but whether or not he will be able to challenge the ultra quick record of Carl Talbot is another matter. David Hutchinson's Midget was in trouble at the last meeting with a broken gearbox but if his car is in peak condition, he should be able to hold off the hordes of highly competitive Minis and Metros which make up the majority of the class.

The Tyson's record at Harewood particularly that of Alex is impressive, Alex seems to have taken a stranglehold on the class but this may be challenged today by Alan Aucote's Terrapin. Alan has been setting some remarkably quick times at Curborough and other venues, which have secured him several FTD's, so if you'll pardon the pun, we could be having a battle 'royale'.

RACING CARS OVER 1100cc AND UP TO 1600cc

Smaller engined cars of Roger Kilty and Chris Seaman will cause several red faces in the larger engined Class K with which they have been merged. Theoretically the Class K cars should be quicker but will they? Alan Newton and Peter Varley will be upholding the Class K honour but some stirring battles will ensue. Mention must be made of the remarkable maturity and skill of young Jonathen Varley who performed extremely well on his first event at the earlier July meeting. A name to watch for in the future.
